Brief

Air Marshal P.K Roy, The Guest of the event addressed the gathering and praised the students for contributing to technological advancement of country, finding problem to various real life solutions and supporting the government's initiative. He motivated students to make India good old "Sone Ki Chidiya" again through their contribution and wished them Luck.

NDIM is one of the only 2 B-Schools chosen by Govt. of India for "SMART INDIA HACKATHON" IN 2017, 2018 AND 2019

Video Messages

- Anand Deshpande(Chairman Persistent System) and Anil Sahasrabudhe(Chairman AICTE) thanking them for experimenting and finding solution to the problems of private and government institutes. The students were congratulated for being top 11000 students out of 200000 participants and they were wished Luck for their competition.
- Shri R. Subrahmanyam (Secretary, Department of Higher Education, MHRD) through a video message said the synergy is coming together within students, with society, with industry and academic institutes through such hackathons.
- Prakash Javadekar (Union Human Resource Development Minister) through a video message informed that Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi will address the Grand Finale of Smart India Hackathon (Software) 2019.
- He said that in SIH 2019, the students would also have the opportunity to work on challenges faced within the private sector organizations and create world class solutions for some of the top companies in the world, thus helping the Private sector hire the best minds from across the nation. The SIH is the largest ever Hackathon in the world and the only one to be held at the national level.
- He further said “Jo khoj karte hai vahi aage badhte hai”. In every innovation around the world there was always an Indian mind present. The problem of our country is ‘We are contributors of innovation not owners of innovation’. Even Bill Gates said if I don’t take Indian engineers in Microsoft they will start their own Microsoft, so that’s the power of Indian minds. He asked participants to be owner of innovation and wished them luck for the greatest technology hackathon.

Brief

Dr Bansal, Chairman NDIM, pointed out that the Defence Sector was a strategic sector, requiring management skills from the young and the educated conversant with the strategic space. Dr Bansal added that while leading B-Schools were equipping the younger generation with the management skills, it was necessary to educate them with strategic thinking. A step in this direction, as pointed out by Brig S P Singh, is setting up of the proposed 'Defence University'.

Prof Iyer, felt that like in most developed economies, sustainable business models were very necessary for industry to invest in defence. Brig Kuldeep Singh Dalal explained how ECIL had achieved success in manufacturing critical component—the “seeker”—of the BRAHMOS missile. This development may lead to export of “Brahmos” to other countries. Shri Vimal Mehta illustrated how air boats manufacture by them could be used in marshy terrain, forest land and river bodies. Shri Sai Kumar opined that it was very necessary to make the younger generation interested in areas like IT in Defence, Defence Electronics, Avionics, Data Analysis, UAVs etc.

Corporate Mentoring at NDIM

Each student is attached to an industry mentor under this programme. Industry mentors connect NDIM students to the practical world of reality and guide them to real life corporate culture and success skills. This unique initiative at NDIM prepares students for leadership roles as they learn directly from the employers in their offices.

NDIM had the honor of 21 mentors mentoring 134 students of 1st year during the month.
